

We're proud to be allied with the AFL-CIO and other partners. We think the Alliance has much to offer by helping retirees stay connected to their unions and helping to educate all of our members about the issues they care about.

We support elected officials, regardless of party affiliation, who support our agenda and the issues we care about.

We welcome members from outside the labor movement who share our concerns.

The dues of retirees of participating unions are paid by their unions; other members pay an annual membership fee of $10.00.

If you want a voice in the decisions that affect you and your family, you should become a member of the Alliance for Retired Americans. Working together and voting together is the best way for working families to have a voice in government. .
